Dear McCombs Student,

Whether you are a student returning to McCombs or it’s your first year with us, we’d like to give you a warm welcome and thank you for your interest in joining one of the many McCombs Affiliated Student Organizations (MASOs). With 40 MASOs to choose from that focus on majors, cultural identities, interests, and business fraternities, we know it can be overwhelming to learn about what each MASO has to offer. This catalog was created to give you a glimpse into each MASO and make the process of finding the MASO that is right for you an easy one!

It was only through the incredible efforts of all the MASOs that this catalog was made possible. The Undergraduate Business Council (UBC) serves as the umbrella organization of all MASOs and works to foster a collaborative environment within the McCombs School of Business. This catalog serves as a small testament into the strides the MASO community can make when working together. Each MASO is a wonderful example of the talented students we have here in McCombs and the impact we hope to leave on this campus and beyond.

If you have any further questions about this catalog or MASOs in general, feel free to contact UBC’s Vice President, Janaya Lavalais, at JanayaLavalais@utexas.edu or stop by the Frito-Lay Student Leadership Center (CBA 3.328A) to talk to MASO representatives.

We wish you all the best in your MASO applications, studies, and your efforts in changing the world.

Hope to see you soon,

The Undergraduate Business Council – www.texasbusinesscouncil.com

DESCRIPTION:
AIESEC is a global platform for young people to develop their leadership potential. We do this by connecting youth to exchange experiences. The world is defined by the people who live in it, so we believe the solution is to develop responsible and entrepreneurial leaders today who will choose how the world will be led tomorrow. Since 1948, we’ve created challenging environments, where young people can connect to the world, have the confidence to learn, and the freedom to fail. AIESEC in Austin has committed to creating a ripple effect of positive impact starting at UT. What starts here, changes the world.

STRUCTURE:
As an organization centered around leadership, there are open leadership positions every semester. We operate as a social enterprise: a not-for-profit business with a purpose. You will develop the following skills by being part of a project team in AIESEC: Project Management; Data Analysis; Marketing; Communication; Performance Management; Strategic Planning; Sustainability Management and more.

THE APPRENTICE CLUB

MEETING TIMES:
Every Wednesday starting at 6:00 PM

WHO CAN JOIN:
Anyone with an entrepreneurial passion

DESCRIPTION:
We are an entrepreneurial focused organization that works with companies in case competition style events to raise money for charities.

STRUCTURE:
As a MASO organization most of our members are business students. However, we accept, and have, majors from every other school at the university. As an entrepreneurial focused organization we believe that every discipline can bring their unique perspective and better our organization. Our officer board includes 5 officer positions and 3 committee heads. Additional information at longhornapprenticeclub.org

WHEN TO JOIN:
Semesterly

HOW TO JOIN:
Reach out via the link on our web page then attend an info session where you can schedule an interview.

EVENTS:
Over the course of the semester we put on one/two in house business competitions and end the semester with our company partnered event. Examples of companies we have worked with in the past include Roomie, Pepsi Co., and Ride Austin.

WHY JOIN:
We offer the opportunity of working and gaining experience with companies that underclassmen are typically not afforded. Also, raising money for charities is a noble pursuit and a great résumé builder.

ASIAN BUSINESS STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

MEETING TIMES:
Every Thursday
6:00 to 7:15 PM

WHO CAN JOIN:
Anyone can join, regardless of ethnicity or major.

WHEN TO JOIN:
ABSA accepts members year-round.

HOW TO JOIN:
All you have to do is pay dues online at one of our General Meetings or online at texasabsa.org.

DESCRIPTION:
For over 30 years, ABSA has stood firmly on three pillars: Professional, Social, and Philanthropic. As the largest professional business organization, our strength lies in the skills, talent, diversity, and spirit of our members. We provide our members with integral lessons in interpersonal skills and professional development by teaching them how to lead teams, take initiative, improve processes, and execute with limited resources, while also supplementing this developmental experience with a strong culture of philanthropy and a tight-knit community to grow our members into well-rounded leaders.

STRUCTURE:
Our officer panel consists of eight total officers: a President and seven Vice-Presidents, who preside over each branch. There are also several director, committee, and team member positions under each VP which brings the total to 60+ leadership opportunities and positions. You can also be a general member and attend any or all of our events that you wish.

WHY JOIN:
There are many reasons to join ABSA that include a vast spectrum of interests. ABSA encompasses the activities of so many different types of organizations into one organization with an amazing group of people. Whether you’re looking for career development, a family to grow close to, or a way to give back to the community, you will be able to find an opportunity that fits your needs.

Anyone can join ALPFA! You can be any race, major, or year.

WHEN TO JOIN:
You can join ALPFA at any time.

HOW TO JOIN:
Come to one of our events and check out what ALPFA has to offer. If you like it, dues are $35 semesterly or $60 yearly.

DESCRIPTION:
ALPFA serves as an organization that strives to develop the next generation of leaders in America. We provide endless opportunities to build strong relationships across every facet of business. Of course we are more than just an organization focused on professionalism. ALPFA is a family...an ALPFAmilia. Our organization supports and cares for every member as if they were our brothers or sisters.

STRUCTURE:
ALPFA is made up of students from all across UT Austin. Although we are focused on business, we have students of every major. We have a Board of Directors that lead the organization, but we depend on our members and their feedback to put on the best events. Very quickly, you can get involved in ALPFA as a LEAD who is able to work directly with the Directors to put on events and build your leadership skills.

EVENTS:
We host dozens of events every year, but our three biggest events are our Business Networking Dinner which occurs on September 14th, our "Ready, Set, Go" event which occurs on October 25th that focuses on Mock interviewing, and "Spring into Action" which occurs on January 29th which is a massive dinner with over 10 companies in attendance.

WHY JOIN:
ALPFA sets you up for success in the business world. We partner with some of the top companies in the world so our members can make valuable connections with them. ALPFA will support you and push you to be the very best that you can be. Lastly, ALPFA will provide the familial backing to help you develop professionally, academically, and most importantly, personally.

DESCRIPTION:
Capital Community is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that conducts basic personal finance lessons for students in underserved areas in Austin. Every week, volunteers educate elementary and middle school students on important financial literacy topics through hands-on activities and personal mentorships. In addition, we also put on various adult workshops around Austin where more advanced financial topics are covered. Predatory lending is a major issue in Texas, and we hope that by educating young Texans now, we can prevent them from becoming victims of predatory lending in the future.

STRUCTURE:
Each volunteer will be placed in a group and together will go to your assigned site to teach your weekly curriculum. For committees, we currently have 7 committees that new members can apply for: Adult Curriculum, Elementary Curriculum, Financial, Internal Affairs, Marketing, Corporate Development Partnerships, and Educational and Nonprofit Partnerships. We have members from all grades and all majors.

EVENTS:
Besides volunteering every week at one of our partner’s sites, we also host Financial Literacy Hour during our general meeting time. Financial Literacy Hour is a series of speaker events on campus focused on personal finance, prevention of predatory lending, and any topic relevant to the financial well-being of college students.

WHY JOIN:
We were awarded the Most Improved Organization Award from BBA Office of Student Life and the Undergraduate Business Council last year for its significant strides forward in creating a strong organizational culture and significant membership growth. We are looking for members who are passionate about fighting predatory lending and improving financial literacy education throughout Austin.

WHO CAN JOIN:
Anyone is welcome to apply.

WHEN TO JOIN:
We accept members on a yearly basis every fall.

HOW TO JOIN:
We encourage everyone interested in joining to apply (link to application and more details can be found on Facebook).

DESCRIPTION:
Consult Your Community is a nationwide, student-run nonprofit organization that empowers students to leverage their knowledge of business with their passion for service. Students engage with local small businesses over the course of a semester through an innovative program in which they are trained to provide business owners with comprehensive, pro bono consulting services.

STRUCTURE:
Our project teams will typically consist of one engagement manager, two consultants, and two analysts. We have an executive board that oversees these project teams. We have open positions for all of our roles.

EVENTS:
We host various events that allow our members to develop necessary skills to be successful consultants. These events include (but are not limited to) case workshops, case competitions, and professional development sessions.

WHY JOIN:
Through CYC, students are able to gain hands-on business experience and develop skills that prepare them for their future careers all while creating a positive impact on their community.

WHO CAN JOIN:
Any freshmen interested in business!

WHEN TO JOIN:
We accept members on a semesterly basis.

HOW TO JOIN:
Just come to one of our information sessions or show up to our meetings to sign up!

DESCRIPTION:
The Freshman Business Association is an organization that offers freshmen at UT Austin the resources to succeed in business and life. In addition to being the largest professional organization open to all freshmen interested in business, FBA encourages its members to be proactive academically and professionally by exposing them to all the opportunities McCombs has to offer, whilst maintaining a fun, social environment to promote strong friendships and lasting experiences.

STRUCTURE:
Our first semester focuses on networking with companies we invite to attend our meetings and second semester will focus on developing leadership skills. As a business organization, FBA understands the importance of leadership skills so we urge members to take on leadership roles within an organization, something organizations rarely offer for freshmen. Applications will be available shortly and in more detail.

EVENTS:
We host many professional events, including distinguished speakers from companies, professor insights, mock interviews, resume workshops, and our signature FBA Spring Case Competition. FBA also participates in philanthropic and volunteer events at animal shelters such as Austin Pets Alive!, Austin area food banks, park clean-ups and more.

WHY JOIN:
FBA offers students with the opportunity to get involved and create lasting relationships both professionally and socially. Our 3 pillars revolve around social, service and professional. Members will gain an edge in the field of business, whilst engaging in a fun and interactive environment.

DESCRIPTION:
The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, and Ally+ Business Student Association serves to provide an open and professional environment for students of the Red McCombs School of Business to promote workplace equality and representation of the GLBTQA+ community in the corporate setting. GBSA seeks to be a platform in which students, professionals, and employers are connected with each other to foster stronger relationships within the GLBTQA+ professional community.

STRUCTURE:
GBSA has 5 officer positions: President, Finance, Internal Relations, External Relations, and Digital. Two committees will work alongside External and Internal Relations functions. Our members consist of mostly business students both GLBTQ+ identifying and allies.

EVENTS:
Professional Development: Resume Workshops, Mock-Interview Prep, and Career Series will help our members prepare for recruiting each semester. Company Nights: Speakers from various firms will give insights on how students can engage and what recruiters are looking for.

WHY JOIN:
GBSA aims to give representation to a less visible demographic in business, and through this goal we hope to empower our members to break boundaries and make greater achievements. GBSA is open to all students seeking professional development and a network with others who identify similarly. GBSA is a small student organization with lots of opportunities to become deeply involved.

Longhorn Kiva is a micro-finance organization that provides loans for small business owners and individuals lacking access to traditional banking systems in underdeveloped countries. We aim to influence students to take an active role in aiding our global community. We encourage cross collaboration between committees and executive team members to increase our efficiency and make sure everyone’s voice is heard. While we are a non-profit organization, we emphasize career development and work towards ensuring that each member uses Longhorn Kiva as an opportunity to grow both personally and professionally.

STRUCTURE:
Our formal structure begins with the President, next the Vice President, and four equal hierarchical positions: VP of Finance, VP of Philanthropy, VP of Public Relations, McCombs Liaison. Under the VP of PR is a Marketing Chair.

EVENTS:
We host fundraising events to raise capital for the businesses we select and make loans to. We are in the process of brainstorming new and innovative event ideas that fit our platform. Previous events have been raffles, bake sales, letter writing campaigns, and profit shares.

WHY JOIN:
We encourage diversity and inclusion within our organization and value different perspectives to increase our problem solving capabilities.
Longhorn Kiva provides students with the opportunity to build their resumes, take on leadership roles, and expand their student networks, all the while retaining a non-profit brand and increasing awareness of those in need around the globe. In addition, the executive team works with individuals involved to capitalize on their strengths and improve their weaknesses.

MC COMBS DIVERSITY COUNCIL

MEETING TIMES:
Every Wednesday
6:30 to 7:30 PM

WHO CAN JOIN:
Any BBA student

WHEN TO JOIN:
Anytime. Email utmdcexec@gmail.com for more info.

HOW TO JOIN:
Visit any of our Wednesday meetings and introduce yourself or email: utmdcexec@gmail.com

DESCRIPTION:
McCombs Diversity Council (MDC) is a BBA student organization devoted to individual, academic and career growth. We embrace the philosophy of diversity of thought to highlight our unique strengths and strive towards helping members find a home during their time at McCombs. MDC assists members in becoming leaders in the ever-growing global market by building long-lasting relationships with companies that value diversity in the workplace.

STRUCTURE:
MDC members are all BBA students ranging from freshmen to seniors. Members can choose to apply for committee positions, which support executive board members in planning events, in the fall. All members, including current committee members, can apply for executive board positions in the spring.

EVENTS:
McCombs Diversity Council Dinner: A professional networking dinner held in the evening of the career expo. BBA students have the opportunity to enjoy conversations with company representatives in a more informal setting.
Target Case Competition: BBA students work together in teams to solve an actual business case prepared by Target representatives. Teams will present in front of Target representatives and compete for cash prizes.
General Meetings: Allow MDC members to network with and hear a presentation from corporate representatives on a pre-determined topic related to the professional workforce.
Family Meetings: Alternates of General Meetings. These meetings allow members to meet one another and bolster the "family" feel of the organization through games, socials, and diversity presentations.
Company Field Trips: Members get the opportunity to visit offices of corporate sponsors. In the fall, we visit Austin companies and in the spring, we visit companies in a city across the nation.

WHY JOIN:
MDC is an organization that combines social and professional attributes. Members have the opportunity for growth while also finding a home and new friends to meet. We are a small and close-knit organization that works to cater to our member’s needs. Due to our small size, members have a more personal networking opportunity with our corporate sponsors.

DESCRIPTION:
The National Association of Black Accountants, Inc. strives to promote and develop African Americans and other minority students in their pursuit of accounting, finance, and business professions. Since the establishment of the UT NABA student chapter in 1990, it has been our mission to equip business-minded students with the skills and opportunities to thrive in their academic and professional endeavors. Our motto is “Lifting as We Climb,” because we are dedicated to advancing in our industries and helping others do the same.

STRUCTURE:
We have both official and unofficial members. Official members pay a $35 membership fee to be recognized by the national organization, attend conferences, apply for regional and national scholarships, and get a free t-shirt! Board elections are held every spring, but students interested in joining our Finance, Public Relations, or Community Service committees are welcome to reach out to us at any time.

EVENTS:
We host general meetings, tutoring sessions, socials, and community service events. Our Austin professional NABA chapter hosts annual seminars and scholarship luncheons for us, while the national organization hosts regional and national student conferences each year.

WHY JOIN:
As a nationally recognized organization, we offer the opportunities and network connections to get you the job you REALLY want after graduation. We understand that students have busy schedules, so we maximize time and value with 1 general meeting per month, and optional secondary events once a week. Each event is sure to be fun, informative, and beneficial. Join NABA. You’ll be glad you did.

DESCRIPTION:
Phi Chi Theta is a professional co-ed business fraternity that provides members with opportunities to develop the professional leadership skills and abilities necessary to succeed in the business community. Members are given access to Phi Chi Theta’s expansive network of alumni and current students who can encourage and support them in their professional and social endeavors.

STRUCTURE:
There are 13 officer positions within Phi Chi Theta. Along with the president and vice president are the social, finance, philanthropy, spirit, marketing, technology, secretary, recruitment and pledge chairs. Committees may be formed under the direction of a chair based on the needs of the group. Each pledge class also contains a president as well as social and philanthropy chairs.

EVENTS:
Phi Chi Theta prides itself on the work we do with local food banks, dog shelters, and other charities. We also link members to valuable business events such as case competitions, resume workshops, and mock interviews.

WHY JOIN:
Students looking for a solid community of their peers with whom they can grow with socially as well as professionally should look no further than Phi Chi Theta. UT can feel like a pretty big place sometimes. So it is refreshing to have a group of people you can say you belong to and who want you to succeed.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT STUDENT ORGANIZATION

DESCRIPTION:
We exist to promote the Supply Chain Management major and to inform students about career opportunities in the field. By providing members with executive level exposure, and introducing them to interactive visits with elite supply chain companies, we serve as the premier platform for Supply Chain Management majors and minors to network with one another, learn about the industry, and interact with supply chain professionals from the corporate world.

STRUCTURE:
Our organization is composed of a President with an executive officer team including a Vice President of External Relations, Vice President of Marketing, Vice President of Academics, and a Vice President of Operations. Each Vice President has 1-2 chair positions in their committee.

EVENTS:
Our events consist of weekly meetings, which alternate between team-building meetings and corporate speaker meetings, along with company field trips, development workshops, and volunteering/social events!

WHY JOIN:
We offer our members the opportunity to receive a unique perspective on the supply chains of various companies’ supply chains. Additionally, we provide our members coaching that is pertinent to their development within the field, and foster environments in which our members can form connections with colleagues and professionals in the field.

DESCRIPTION:
Texas AMA is an organization focused on developing a thriving generation of marketing professionals. We are a group of students passionate about marketing, across many disciplines and majors. Our organization is focused on providing students opportunities to explore marketing and opportunities that give you the tools to excel at it. We do this through interactive speaker events, workshops, certificates, a student-run agency, mentorship program and more. As an organization, we foster a culture of curiosity and passion for marketing.

STRUCTURE:
Our organization’s executive board includes the following positions: President, VP of Communication, VP of Event Management, VP of Business Development, VP of Member Experience, and our Account Executive (agency director). We have an officer board composed of 13 officers and 4 account managers (agency). Our member base is diverse across majors, classifications, and marketing interests.

EVENTS:
A few of our interactive speaker events feature companies such as Accenture, Kendra Scott, ESPN, and IBM Design. We’ll be embarking on company tours at Google, R/GA, and Indeed. Get real-world marketing experience in social media, analytics, strategy, and more through our agency. Build your marketing skill set through workshops on Photoshop and UX.

WHY JOIN:
We strive to provide members with valuable experiences and opportunities that will help them excel in any marketing role. We enrich experiences by providing the best value possible for our members through events and programs that provide exposure to all aspects of marketing, real world skills and experiences, and building a community of marketing-minded people.

WHEN TO JOIN:
TXBHA accepts members on a year round basis.

HOW TO JOIN:
To become a member, fill out our membership form on our website at txbha.org.

DESCRIPTION:
TXBHA focuses on filling in the gap between business and healthcare by exposing students to the financial, managerial, legal, and consulting aspects of the healthcare industry. With the current healthcare crisis, a sole understanding of medicine is not enough to bring about change. TXBHA provides educational speakers as well as insight on career opportunities for those students interested in having a background in both business and healthcare. Our members’ career paths range from private practice medicine and hospital administration, to healthcare banking and consulting, to healthcare law and public health.

STRUCTURE:
TXBHA’s organizational structure is as follows: One President, two VPs, three Committee Directors (Finance, Events, and Marketing), and one Committee Chair per Director (Finance, Events, and Marketing). Additionally, other members interested in joining a Committee will be placed under one of the three Committees where they will assist the Director and Chair in their respective duties.

EVENTS:
Semesterly Speaker Series: TXBHA curates a series of distinguished speakers from across the healthcare industry to speak about the changing healthcare crisis or their career experiences.
Case Competition: TXBHA hosts a healthcare Case Competition where students are provided with a healthcare centered issue to work on with cash prizes for awards.

WHY JOIN:
TXBHA curates speakers to provide insight on healthcare, in addition to organizing social events. Membership is open to all UT students interested in any sector of the healthcare industry including: medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, business, law & policy, and public health. TXBHA offers opportunities for networking, seminars, case competitions, mentorship, professional development, and more!

DESCRIPTION:
The Texas Business Law Association (TBLA) exists to provide networking and professional opportunities for students interested in learning about law school or the legal side of business. This organization was created to provide UT students the opportunity to explore the intersection of business and law.

STRUCTURE:
The structure of TBLA includes an executive board with roles such as President, Vice President, Recruitment Director, Communications Director, etc. We also plan on creating a committee system in which members can apply to join groups dedicated to a certain project or event. All members apply to join as general members and then may run for elected positions within committees or the executive board.

EVENTS:
Our events include biweekly general meetings, law school visits, a professional speaker series, and a variety of social events for members to get to know one another.

WHY JOIN:
Join TBLA if you are interested in attending law school, entering legal or business professions, and meeting likeminded peers.

DESCRIPTION:
Convergent creates a collaborative learning environment where market opportunities are built into new products. We take a holistic, hands-on approach towards educating students in the art of product development. Students make connections with industry experts in order to discover how emerging technologies can be applied to create new products. Convergent is especially focused on delivering a finished product that offers tangible benefits to its users.

STRUCTURE:
Convergent’s members are divided into 2 main groups: the Incubator members and Build Team members. The Incubator is comprised of experienced officers that provide necessary resources for ideas to develop into minimally-viable products. Build Teams are similar but with faster iteration cycles. The backbone of Convergent is supported by a board of directors that oversee marketing, finance, strategy, and membership.

EVENTS:
Texas Shark Tank - This is Convergent’s flagship pitch competition where students present their businesses to a panel of expert judges in the hopes of getting their startups funded.

Fish Bowl - The Fish Bowl is a competition designed to serve as an entryway into the world of presenting ideas for startups or solutions in any discipline.

WHY JOIN:
Convergent attracts some of the most interesting companies and the most motivated, innovative people. It is a fantastic community to learn from people who have had firsthand knowledge of trending technologies, entrepreneurial experiences, and clever business strategies. Convergent is about bringing together brilliant people with ambitious ideas to create beautiful products.

Welcome to Texas Enactus, the only student organization on campus that allows you to experience the thrill of a start-up business while driving social change. Enactus is a non-profit based in Springfield, Missouri that promotes understanding and use of social entrepreneurship among students as a solution to world problems. The United States has over 400 teams and 17,000 students. Enactus is financially sponsored by over 300 companies worldwide, including Walmart, KPMG, Hershey, and more. These companies recruit Enactus students as their next leaders. Talk about a network!

STRUCTURE:
Guided by academic advisors and business experts, the student leaders of Enactus create and implement entrepreneurial projects around the globe. As a member you will first join our team project and then have the resources and advising to create your own project! When you have gained experience you can be a part of the competition team that presents our projects at the Enactus USA National Expo!

EVENTS:
We attend one a regional competition in Dallas in April and a national competition in Kansas City May. If we win the national competition, we attend Enactus World Cup in October. The competition is a 17 minute presentation of our team’s current and upcoming ventures. Teams and individuals can compete for seed funding, internships, and scholarships!

WHY JOIN:
You’ll be joining a worldwide network of more than 69,000+ Enactus students who are creating a better world through the positive power of business. It’s an experience that will change the lives of those in need and your own. Top companies identify Enactus students as the socially responsible business leaders and actively them into their leadership programs and key entry level positions!

DESCRIPTION:
TSPE offers students a unique experience that supplements their business studies with discussion and study of the intersection of business and government policy. We debate current issues involving this intersection, conduct research projects concerning business policy, and partner with GBB to send members on a brigade in the winter to assist a small business through microfinance. The organization seeks to bridge the gap between a business education and understanding the impact business and policy have on one another.

STRUCTURE:
Our organization officers include President, Vice President, Debate Chair, Think Tank Chair, and Brigade Chair. Ad hoc committees may be formed at any time to plan new events and projects. Members are TSPE Fellows, and become TSPE Senior Fellows after two years with the organization.

EVENTS:
We will have debates at our biweekly meetings over current business policy issues. We will also conduct research throughout the year culminating in submissions for publication in the Undergraduate Research Journal. The Brigade will go to Panama over winter break to assist a local business.

WHY JOIN:
We welcome any and all students interested in discussing and researching the political issues facing the business community. We offer open debate and hear opinions from across the political spectrum, while also seeking to expand members knowledge of the role of business in the political process.

DESCRIPTION:
Texas Stock Team wishes to instill genuine interest and knowledge of trading into members, using fundamental analysis and technical analysis, by enriching them with interesting and diverse curriculum, along with a tight-knit social environment focused on mentorship. Founded in 2013, Texas Stock Team is the ONLY finance-oriented student organization at McCombs that focuses on stock trading and specializes in technical analysis - a form of financial analysis that uses historical patterns in market data to identify and forecast trends. Interact with us at our info session for more information about our organization!

STRUCTURE:
Texas Stock Team is composed of three organizational levels: Executive Board, Associate Directors, and Associates. By participating in curriculum lectures, presenting stock pitches, and developing market reports, Associates and Associate Directors will gain access to a deeper understanding in Finance within a family-group structure. Associate Directors will have further technical and leadership responsibilities.

WHY JOIN:
Technical Analysis is a rare skillset that elevates one’s intuition of the capital markets. In TST, students will transform from “members” into “active associates” that are committed to enhancing the community’s culture and mastery of finance. By applying their analytical skills from the TST-specialized curriculum, associates will compete in our Portfolio Challenges with a shot at the cash prize!

DESCRIPTION:

UBC serves as the student representative body of the McCombs School of Business. Our mission is to improve the wellbeing and opportunity of all business students by providing a voice for McCombs students on a university-wide level in Senate and Student Government, planning over 50 career- and academic-oriented events, and advancing the McCombs culture. As an umbrella organization, we frequently collaborate with other MASOs and are in constant communication with students, faculty, and staff to better our pursuit of this mission. Internally, we are a family that values leadership, integrity, and open-mindedness.

STRUCTURE:

UBC’s 101 members are each mobilized into at least one of 40 committees that range from professional event planning and procedures to internal and external community building and advocacy. Many of these committees and programs are led by a chair who exhibits strong leadership and mentorship. The executive board consists of nine individuals who manage multiple chairs and set the vision for the entire council.

EVENTS:

With over 70 events, UBC strives to cover a variety of interests. A few examples of these include our in and out of state company visits, academic summits, Engineering vs. Business week, and C-suite speaker events (Microsoft, ExxonMobil, etc.). We also commit ourselves to community service and school spirit, such as in the Mr. McCombs male pageant.

WHY JOIN:

Regardless if you enter through our First Year Leadership, Elected Rep, or Org Rep program, we believe UBC provides unparalleled opportunities to develop as a leader by serving our fellow students. We take our mission very seriously, but we do so knowing that the IM games, late night coffee runs, hip-hop roundtables, and other pursuits as a group of friends are what root us as a council!

DESCRIPTION:
The University Accounting Association (UAA) is a dynamic, student-run organization that strives to be the bridge between students and their future careers. UAA connects students with associates of the accounting world to furnish them with the information and direction to obtain a career in the accounting profession. UAA enriches the experience gained in the classroom by providing numerous opportunities to learn about accounting first-hand from industry professionals. UAA consists of self-motivated student leaders that will make every possible effort to create a positive difference in each student's career.

STRUCTURE:
UAA mostly represents undergraduate students pursuing an accounting degree; the majority of students are freshmen or sophomores. However, we accept other majors, juniors and seniors. We have roughly 50 students that regularly attend our meetings. UAA has four yearly appointed executive positions (President, Vice President, Marketing, and Treasurer) and two semesterly appointed positions (Events and Historian).

EVENTS:
Every fall, UAA hosts The Big Four Roundtable, which is an event that allows students to interact with Big Four firm representatives. In addition, Big Four Firms have the opportunity to reach accounting majors of all backgrounds to present their internship and development programs. This event is followed by a brief networking session.

WHY JOIN:
UAA is an organization that provides its members:
